Q4

To reach our collective potential, we must work together to build up Ottawa. That requires a council in which each member commits to city wide leadership. What is your intended approach to collaboration with council, city staff and economic partners?

- 1- Meet City staff and key partners like your associations and others similar groups to know plans which already exist on collective work between City and who produce and contribute to value in Ottawa to identify the challenges and the opportunities
 - 2- Share my views with my colleagues at the City council to come up with joint plans to improve the support from the City to the economic actors
 - 3- Develop closer collaboration with the education centers like universities and colleges to have a more inclusive dialogue between the groups of businesses and these education centers for a more productive economic system with most innovative initiatives for a better overall build up on the services and products offers facilitated by more efficient infrastructures in the City
 - 4- Work for more transparency and communication towards the population to seek its confidence, its support and its pride about all the actors of the economic system, businesses, education centers and the City

Q5

What key characteristics and skills do you possess that make you a great leader and ambassador for the city of Ottawa, and the national capital region?

- More than 15 years in community involvement
 - Team work specialist
 - Experience in business with 2 years managing a corner store
 - MBA in management accounting
 - More than 10 years in media animation and hosting in radio and social medias

Q6

What are your top three priorities for Ottawa's future?

- Support local businesses promoting their civic role
 - More security environment for all specially our families with more efficient infrastructure
 - Prevention of violence with more investment in community police
